'Token' Strike On Railroads Spreads Today

Request To Call Off Rail Strike Is Turned Down

Striking Railroaders Reject Request By Steelman Early Today

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Striking railroad switchmen and conductors flatly refused early today to call off the "token" strike that threatens to paralyze rail movement in the United States.

Representatives of the striking Brotherhoods of Railway Conductors and Railway Switchmen left a White House conference with presidential assistant John R. Steelman early this morning with no settlement in sight.

No Progress

White House spokesman Eben Ayres said that Steelman asked the brotherhoods to call off the strike and they refused.

"There was no progress whatever," Ayres said.

Ayres added that Steelman will report to President Truman this morning and then call negotiators into another session.

All three members of the National Railway Mediation board were at the White House meetings which Steelman held not only with the striking brotherhoods, but with representatives of the railroads.

Stelman said that no joint sessions were held because the strikers and the company representatives could find "no common ground for discussion."

The brotherhoods are asking a 40-hour week with no reduction from their present pay for a 48 hour week. They have turned down a presidential fact-finding board recommendation for settlement.

Ayres said that no mention had been made of presidential seizure of the railroads, a condition that the unions have made as essential to their return to work.

Operations On P. & L. E. Halted

Five-Day Strike Begun This Morning

Both freight and passenger traffic was at a complete standstill on the P. & L. E. Railroad here today as a result of conductors and switchmen walking off their jobs early this morning.

The "token" strike which is to last five days, according to railroad spokesmen, freezes the movement of passengers and freight over the company lines until next Sunday morning, unless government operation of the road is authorized.

Many Commuters

No estimate was given locally as to the number of commuters affected by the stoppage of trains but hundreds of district workers depend on the system to get them to their positions in Pittsburgh and Youngstown.

Movements of freight into New Castle and into district plants has ceased and may deter to some extent manufacturing operations in district factories.

Yardmasters at the New Castle junction were on the job today but were standing by in readiness for any orders that they might receive.

Large numbers of fallen leaves give the appearance of fall to the diamond on the West Side. Leaves on many trees appear to be coming down early this year.

Many of the business places in Mercer are gaily decorated this week. This is the annual big week in Mercer, when the County Fair takes place.

One of the most extensive beauty spots in the county is to be seen on the northern edge of New Wilmington, along the route to Mercer. It is a huge plot of canna, now in full bloom.

Folks might think the cold mornings experienced during the past few days as most unusual, but a year ago at this same period, the mercury stood at 42 degrees on August 20, and 43 on August 21, only a degree or two above the low of the past three days.

Shoppers in the downtown district Monday evening were poised to be afflicted for cooler weather as evidenced by the extra coats and sweaters which have been removed from summer storage. Little need was seen for air conditioning in stores with equipment for cooling the storerooms.

Senate Hearing On U.M.T. Bill

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Defense leaders present their case for universal military training today to a Senate committee ready to give it speedy approval and push it through Congress by January.

Pleading for UMT will be Defense Secretary Johnson; Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, and other military spokesmen.

Armed services committee chairman Tydings (D Md.), backed by committeemen of both parties, said the urgency of the international situation will make the hearing on UMT short, and speed the measure toward final action on the Senate floor.

The Marylander refused to speculate on what reception Congress will give the proposal. But he declared that the war in Korea points up U. S. weakness in ground forces and places the responsibility for remedying the situation squarely on the lawmakers.

Sen. Bridges (R) N. H. flatly predicted, however, that chances for passage are good after Congress returns late in the year from an election recess.

Rail Workers Across Canada Out On Strike

Nation-Wide Rail And Telegraph Strike In Progress

(BULLETIN)

TORONTO, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Canadian railway workers went on strike across the nation today and at 8 a. m. union officials pronounced the stoppage of railroad and telegraph traffic "100 per cent effective."

In Canada, telegraph lines are operated by the railroads.

Some 125,000 employees of the government-operated Canadian National Railways and the privately-owned Canadian Pacific were taking part in the strike over the 40-hour work week and increased pay demands.

Government mediator Prof. W. A. Mackintosh continued a marathon all-night meeting with union and management representatives, but there was no sign of agreement as the strike went into effect across the country at 6 a. m. in each time zone.

The walkout, halting all telegraph communications and rail service, began in Nova Scotia and Newfoundland and spread through Ontario as the deadline hour arrived.

Cabinet Effort Fails

The Canadian cabinet met last night and stayed in session until 2 a. m. today in a vain effort to seek a solution.

Demand have been voiced by many groups, among them the important Canadian Federation of Agriculture for the government to take over and operate the railroads on an emergency basis. But this would require a special session of

Glenn Blews Hurt In Korea Sector

In a war department telegram received by Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Blews, R. D. 5, Mitchell road, they were informed that their son, Glenn Blews was injured on July 10 in action in Korea.

The wire stated that Glenn had been removed to a Tokyo hospital but no details as to his injuries were given. Mr. Blews re-enlisted in the army early this year after serving for several years prior to World War II and during that conflict.

Egyptian Swimmer Makes New Channel Swim Record

(BULLETIN)

DOVER, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Hasan Abd El Rehim, powerful 41-year-old Egyptian, won the English Channel swim marathon today in a stirring neck-and-neck finish that brought him ashore in the unofficial time of ten hours and 52 minutes. His time was 13 minutes ahead of the recognized record.

Rehim, who negotiated the grueling 19-mile channel course for the third time, nosed out Frenchman Roger Le Morvan in the shadow of the chalk cliffs of Dover.

Rehim strode majestically from the water after a final half-mile spurt. Le Morvan made the beach, virtually exhausted.

Eileen Fenton, 21-year-old English schoolteacher, led the women's division after the three-quarter mark in the London Daily Mail's Swim Derby.

Twenty-four entrants plunged into the chilly water at Cap Gris Nez this morning, but at least half dropped out before the race reached the climatic stage.

Rehim won first prize of $2,800. Rehim, who swam the channel in 1948 and 1949, beat Le Morvan

Believe Russians Plan To Reoccupy Northern Korea

By DARRELL GARWOOD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The Air Force released information today supporting the belief that the Russians plan to reoccupy Korea when the military tide turns against the Communists.

A spokesman said heavy construction is underway to build airports that could handle modern jet planes in both the Wonsan and Pyongyang areas of North Korea.

For Russian Planes?

Air observation leaves little doubt that the fields are being built for Russian planes that would move in to provide cover for Soviet troops if and when they return to Korea.

No similar construction is being

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(INS)—The boycott of Russian shipments of furs, crabmeat and other commodities continues today with longshoremen and airlines workers under union orders to refuse to handle such cargo.

In the hold of the liner Queen Elizabeth was a shipment of Soviet furs which longshoremen refused to move. Leaders of local 824, International Longshoremen's Association, AFL, declared the work-stoppers "decided spontaneously" against unloading anything with a Russian label.

Meanwhile, members of the maintenance and flight service division, transport workers union, CIO, were told to refuse to unload air shipments of Russian goods.

Michael J. Quill, international president of the TWU, declared traffic in Russian goods "is helping hamstring our GI's in South Korea."

TWU members will refuse to abet such immoral practices. We won't handle Russian air cargo," he asserted.

Passenger In Plane Killed While In Flight

One Of Propellers Breaks Loose And Strikes Compartment

(BULLETIN)

DENVER, Aug. 22.—(INS)—One engine of a four-engine American Airlines DC-6 Luxury Liner broke loose high over the Rocky mountains early today, injuring seven persons and indirectly resulting in the death of one passenger.

The propeller from the right in-board (No. 3) engine ripped a gaping hole in the passenger compartment, scattering baggage and hatboxes, an eyewitness said.

Flying At 21,000 Feet

The accident occurred while the plane was flying at 21,000 feet, with some discomfort reported from the sudden drop in pressurization. The plane made an emergency landing 18 minutes later at Stapleton airport in East Denver, hitting the runway at 2:56 a. m.

The captain of the plane was R. K. Baker. The co-pilot was identified as Robert Reinicke.

Stapleton Airport Manager Herman Gassert said seven persons were taken to Denver General hospital for what appeared to be minor injuries.

The dead man was tentatively identified as Jack Krebby, address unknown. Gassert said he apparently died of a heart attack.

Without Warning

Reinicke said the accident happened without warning, and that everything was operating normally before the engine broke loose, sending the prop tearing into the passenger compartment.

The captain and co-pilot emphasized that they did not know what may have caused the accident.

One witness said a stewardess received a slight head injury.

Passengers remained at Stapleton airport awaiting transportation to their destination.

The flight was identified as American Airlines No. 14. Flying non-stop from Los Angeles to Chicago.

Malik Will Renew Attack To Assail U.S. In Security Council Session At 3 O'Clock

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Soviet Delegate Jacob Malik will again assail the United States today in violent terms in pressing the "hands off Korea" propaganda offensive touched off by the Cominform.

The Russian chairman of the Security Council, rebuffed by the non-Soviet members at yesterday's private meeting on his offer to drop his three-week filibuster in return for the inviting of the North Koreans, renews his attack on the West at the 3 p. m. public session.

American chief delegate Warren R. Austin is prepared to take the floor after Malik has had his say and hand back a point by point refutation of the "falsehoods and slanders" slung at the U. S. by Russia in recent statements on the Korean fighting.

Particularly hard blows landed by Austin last week which the Russian will try to counter this afternoon were Austin's query and response:

"Mr. President, does the Soviet

B-29 Bombers In Smash At Port Of Chongjin

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(Far Eastern Director, I. N. S.)

TOKYO, August 23.—(Wednesday)—Counter-attacking American troops threw back thrusts of Communist forces in Korea's Taegu and southern sectors Tuesday while B-29 Superforts made a new 500-ton bomb strike within 40 miles of Russia's Siberian border.

Latest Developments

Outstanding developments included:

1. Red infiltrators swarmed around the flanks of the 27th regimental combat team north of Taegu but a Red machinegun roadblock thrown behind the American line by the enemy troops was wiped out.

2. In the south sector the 25 Division's famed 24th Regiment regained a position it lost Monday. The Fifth Regimental combat team launched a counter-attack against 500 to 1,000 Reds atop a hill the Americans lost the day before.

Hitting Facilities Of Russians?

3. The far-ranging B-29s in their new strike near the Siberian border rained their bombs on the deepwater port of Chongjin. There is a suspicion that the Superforts not only are destroying strategic Korean war targets also are hitting industrial facilities important to Russian atomic research.

4. Maj. Gen. Hobart Gay, commander of the hard-fighting U. S. First Cavalry, declared the enemy has "just shot his bolt" and added that "we are going to start rolling them back soon."

5. On the east coast two South Korean divisions pushed five miles farther north above recaptured Pohang and also advanced slowly beyond liberated Kigye against stiffening Red opposition.

Seek To Develop Offensive

The Communist forces were striving to develop a decisive offensive before their heavy manpower and materiel losses reduce their strength to numerical parity with the still outnumbered United Nations troops. But an American General declared that the enemy has "just about shot his bolt."

"We are going to start rolling them back soon," predicted Maj. Gen. Hobart Gay at his field headquarters where he is directing his U. S. First Cavalry Division north-west of Taegu.

Stand-By Law For U.M.T. Asked By Johnson

Secretary Johnson Calls For Action

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Defense Secretary Johnson today called for an immediate stand-by universal military training law to close "a serious gap in our national security program."

In testimony before the Senate armed services committee, Johnson said that lack of United States preparedness for manpower mobilization is "alarming our friends and encouraging potential aggressors."

Johnson and Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, headed an array of defense spokesmen whose testimony backed the proposal of Senate armed services Chairman Tydings (D Md.) to rush a UMT bill through Congress this year.

Far-Reaching Anti-Red Bill May Get Senate Approval

By GLENN M. GREEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The Senate appears today to approve one of the most far-reaching anti-Communists bills ever introduced in Congress.

The chances are that only a determined, last-ditch stand to stymie the legislation in committee on the House side will prevent the bill by Sen. McCarran (D Nev.) from going to the White House.

The Senate leadership, however, will try to draft a compromise measure with enough teeth in it to serve as a substitute for the McCarran bill.

For Registering Communists

Assistant Majority Leader Myers (D Pa.), indicating a sharp turn on the part of administration supporters, said that he would vote for the registering of Communists which the administration so far has opposed.

Myers declared: "I see no reason why the Communist party should not be compelled to register its members. The people want it and they should have it."

Sen. Humphrey (D Minn.), an administration supporter on most controversial issues, conceded that the administration bill might eventually "go that far" and include a registration clause. Humphrey pointed out that "innocent people will be placed in jeopardy" because the Communists may submit their names in an organized smear campaign to render the act useless.

Capitol observers believe, however, that the bill will pass.

Locked In Struggles

Above Taegu, at the northwest corner of the front, U. N. and South Korean troops were locked in a series of grim struggles with armor-padded forward elements of six Red divisions, supported by heavy artillery. As of Tuesday afternoon, the enemy's pressure toward Taegu from the north was held in check, despite Red infiltrations behind United Nations lines.

Thirteen miles southwest of Taegu, still another North Korean division was building up its Hyon-pung bridgehead across the Nak-tong river in the face of counter-thrusts by air-supported American troops.

Along Korea's eastern seaboard two South Korean divisions pushed another five miles farther north above the liberated port of Pohang and also advanced slowly beyond recaptured Kiyang against stiffening Red opposition.

Planes Increasingly Bomb

On all sectors and far behind the enemy's lines, swarms of land-based and carrier-borne planes incessantly bombed, rocketed and strafed the Red forces and their supply bases. U. S. Air Force planes flew more than 500 sorties over the war theater Monday.

A briefing officer at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters announced Tuesday evening that nine North Korean divisions were "in contact" with allied troops along the Korean battle perimeter.

The enemy's heaviest pressure against the U. S. Army's 25th Division in the extreme south and along the American-South Korean defense sector at Taegu's northern approaches. Three out of nine attacking Red tanks were destroyed above Taegu Tuesday.

Continuous Fighting

What was officially described as "continuous fighting" raged through its third day in the south sector where two Red regiments were spearheading a twin-pronged offensive aimed at Masan, western gateway to Pusan.

Gen. MacArthur said in a communique issued late Tuesday that the 25th Division was locked in "heavy" combat with numerically superior enemy forces.

Along the lower rim of the enemy's drive, a regimental spearhead of a fresh Red division tentatively identified as possibly the Seventh stormed what MacArthur described as "crucial positions" on Sobuksan ridge, just south of Tundok.

For the second straight day, the 25th Division's famed negro 24th Regimental Combat Team (RCT) fought fiercely to hold the strategic height, only 35 miles west of the entry port of Pusan and nine miles west of Masan.

ever, that the McCarran bill will be hard to beat.

Major Provisions

It contains the Mundt-Ferguson bill, which had almost solid Republican, and considerable Democratic support.

The McCarran bill's major provisions are:

1. Branding the Communist movement a conspiracy aimed at overthrowing the government and making it unlawful to conspire to set up a totalitarian dictatorship controlled by a foreign government.
2. Establishment of a three-member subversive activities control board to administer the act in conjunction with the Attorney General.
3. Requiring all officers and members of Communist or Communist-controlled organizations to register and requiring the registration of all Communist-front organization officers.
4. Tightening up a security in many other directions, such as the protecting of vital government information, barring subversive aliens, and putting new teeth in naturalization and deportation laws.

The organizations themselves would have to register and submit annual statements.

Man 'Buried Alive' Climbs Out Okay

SELDEN, N. Y., Aug. 22.—(INS)—Howard L. Hodges said today that aside from the dirt in his ears he's in pretty fine shape for a man who was buried yesterday.

Hodges, 37, literally climbed out of his own grave, with an assist from bystanders. Operating a bulldozer, he fell off into a 15-foot cesspool. The cesspool walls caved in under the weight of the dozer, and the driverless machine slid down over the mouth of the hole.

Only quick digging by Howard Hull, 31, and another workman brought Hodges out alive.

The road's original surface which was not made for present traffic is taking a "beating." Speed has also increased on the road, it is reported by residents who have difficulty in entering the highway from various intersections.

Six Hundred Killed On State Highways

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—(INS)—The State Highway Safety Bureau reported today that 662 persons were killed on Pennsylvania highways during the first half of 1950.

The toll was 49 less than recorded for a comparable period in 1949.

Research Chief J. E. Smiley lauded Pennsylvania's safety record.

"Deaths in the nation are definitely soaring," Smiley said. "Only eight states show decreases and but one of these, Ohio, can be compared to Pennsylvania when registration, population and mileage are considered."

Mishaps on rural roads took the lives of 391 persons while urban accidents caused the death of 271, Smiley reported.

There were 235 pedestrians killed during the period, a decline of 86 from the first half of 1949. The number in urban areas was 154 while in rural areas it was 81.

P. & L. E. Strike-Bound PITTSBURGH, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Trainmen and conductors employed by the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad struck at 7 a. m. (EDT) today.

The strike is one of a series called by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the order of Railway Conductors to force shorter hours at the same pay and wage boosts.

Officials of the P. & L. E., a New York Central subsidiary, said trains in operation at the time of the strike would continue to their destination. All trains scheduled to begin runs after the strike deadline were cancelled.

The P. & L. E. serves the heavy industrial area ranging from Youngstown, O., to Conneville, Pa. Although it operates only 220 miles of track, the line carries huge quantities of material used in the coal, steel and affiliated industries.

United States Steel and Jones & Laughlin, the two largest producers in the area, said they expected only slight cutbacks at present. Both firms reported stockpiles of materials were in good supply.

RUSSIA'S NEXT MOVE?

The Moscow newspaper Pravda told its readers that the United States, under the pretense of trying to localize the Korean War, "is in fact carrying out ever newer and newer measures to expand aggression in the Far East." Whatever Pravda says is official: it has a motive behind it. What can the motive be in this case?

Anyone who has watched the shrinking of the area held by American forces knows that what the Russians call our "aggression" is not "expanding" but dwindling. The military picture in Korea is such that neither side expects American forces to hold much more territory even a month hence than is held now. The Kremlin must be expecting something else to happen soon that Pravda can point to as the fulfillment of its prediction.

Obviously the U. S. is not planning to start anything elsewhere in the Far East at this time. American forces have their hands full in Korea. But Pravda's prediction would make sense if Russia were planning to touch off new aggression in the Far East, and expected the U. S. to take military action against it. In that case Pravda could and would say that the United States was expanding the "aggression" started in Korea.

There is only one place in the Far East where aggression now would bring immediate military reaction by American forces, and that is Formosa. The U. S. Seventh Fleet is under orders to attack any amphibious expedition aimed at Formosa. Against aggression elsewhere in that area, the U. S. is hardly prepared to move.

Has Molotov finally wangled from Mao Tzetung the promise that the Chinese Reds will soon move against Formosa? The Pravda article sounds like it.

CONDITIONED TO SCARCITY

A government bureau has issued a new comparison of commodity costs in the Soviet Union and the United States, based upon the working time required to earn the money needed to buy goods. It is a revealing example of the vast differences between a free, competitive economy, and a controlled economy in which practically everything is rationed and priced arbitrarily by the government.

To buy a pound of bread the Russian worker must put in 19 minutes, and the American worker six minutes. To buy a bar of soap the respective times are 41 minutes and three minutes. In the case of a pair of women's shoes, the figures are 72 hours as against 3 1/2 hours. If the Russians want a new suit, he must work 376 hours to earn it. His American equivalent can earn the price in trifle more than 24 hours.

In Russia, under Communism, all consumer goods industries are rigidly restricted. The standard of living is held at low levels as a matter of government policy.

What is true of producing industry is also true of distribution. Here in America we take our retail stores for granted. They are crammed with goods of all kinds. They do everything they can think of to attract the consumer—through advertising, through eye-compelling displays, through low prices. Competition is rife on every hand, between the chains and independents, the specialty shops and the department stores, and every other kind of retail outlet. To the average Russian, this would seem absolutely unbelievable. He has been conditioned to scarcity.

Retailing is the show window of America. It visualizes the workings of an economic system which has done more for people than any other system ever devised.

ONE ARMY FOR EUROPE

Western Europeans are generally only too familiar with most facts and conclusions that Winston Churchill wove into the address he made before the consultative assembly of the Council of Europe, in session at Strasbourg. They know their own weakness and Russia's strength; they know that if the United States did not have the atomic bomb they might be under Soviet domination today.

They know they have only a limited time to rebuild their armed strength so that they can defend their freedom. Their situation, the world situation, the broad outlines of the terrible problem they face—all these are understood well enough by the men who are the leaders of western Europe.

But they may understand certain other things too well. There are difficulties standing in the way of what they must do if western Europe is to survive. These they see very plainly. They see less plainly how to overcome them.

That is the great value of the Churchill speech. It was made by a man who does not at the moment carry the responsibilities of government on his shoulders and it is true that others in places of power cannot speak with the freedom. Still, if western Europe is to solve its problem, the solution will have to be bold and sweeping. Nothing less will do.

The unified European Army proposed by Churchill embodies a concept going far beyond anything that has been proposed by any European or American in a position of power. To create it would not be easy. Yet it could bring together men of all the free nations, and Germans with them, in a single force strong enough to preserve liberty in Europe. This problem must have some solution which will insure that result?

Biography of Thomas Jefferson will be in 50 volumes. Many present-day politicians could learn something about the facts of government from any one of them.

MARCH OF EVENTS

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—Look for the United States and Britain to demand that Turkey be admitted to membership in the North Atlantic Alliance.

Some countries are opposing the action, contending that Turkey is "at the head of the Soviet powder barrel" and likely to be involved in incidents which could lead to all-out war with Russia.

However, American and British diplomats already are arguing that Norway is just as much of a war risk as Turkey, and that when Russia decides on open aggression she will attack on all fronts.

The quick Turkish decision to send 4,500 well-trained troops to join United Nations forces in Korea won the admiration of high United States officials.

These men point out that Turkey occupies a key position in the defense of the Mediterranean. They insist that to leave her out of the defense system of western Europe would encourage any aggressor to exploit the open gap.

The officials also say that the entire Middle East would be encouraged if Turkey's defense potential were bolstered by her admission to the Atlantic Pact group.

AIR POWER—The 69-group air force to which the United States Air Force aspires within the next 30 months actually will exceed in striking power the 70-group program advanced by the Finletter Air Policy Commission. The added power comes as the result of Air Force changes in the number of planes for various groups.

For instance, the commission's recommendations were made at a time when heavy bomber groups were composed of 18 planes. At that time, there were 30 planes in a medium bomber group.

Now the Air Force has fixed the size of heavy bombardment groups at an average of 30 planes—12 more than under the Finletter concept. Medium bomber group today are composed of 40 to 65 aircraft—a boost of from 10 to 25 planes.

The Air Force plans to add 11 groups to its forces during fiscal 1951; the remainder by January 1, 1953.

NEW RIBBON—A colorful new ribbon soon will make its appearance on many Army uniforms. It will be the Korean campaign badge.

A design for the ribbon has been submitted to top officials at the Pentagon and it is expected to be made public shortly. It will first appear on the scores of wounded soldiers now coming back to the United States for care and treatment at army hospitals throughout the nation.

Unless the Communists halt

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

RELIGION IN CHILD'S LIFE

Many a youth entering the Armed Forces is going to take a powerful armor win him—a spiritual armor against a godless foe. For years his parents and other persons who have held high those values which endure have been helping this youth cast and shape his armor.

What our country needs, what every one of the United Nations needs, is more spiritual striving. This spiritual striving is already symbolized in the concerted rush to the defense of our republic. As we make more sacrifices to this end the spiritual necessity becomes more real and apparent.

A Working Religion
Never has there been a time when genuine religion is so greatly needed. It's the time when you and I should rejoice to see so many other people worshipping God both in church and in their homes, no matter how much their ways of worshipping may differ from our own. We develop the best spiritual values for ourselves and through these values give most to our community, nation and the United Nations, as we feel and show appreciation for the spiritual strivings of other persons.

Now's the time for us to work harder at our religion, to go to church, to get our own spiritual dynamo recharged, and to live our religion at home so abundantly as to prove to our children that our religion makes us better persons. If we want to encourage our children to cultivate spiritual values, we must prove to them that these spiritual values are worthy of being chosen.

Good Examples
Parents who have sons soon eligible for the Armed Forces should feel, it seems to me, a strong urge to improve their own inner lives. If we are already active religiously we should work harder in this direction. If we have grown indifferent and neglectful, we have good reason to resume our spiritual interests, not just for ourselves but also for our children, our nation and the United Nations.

Those parents, especially those with teen-age sons, who have felt and seen no values in religion, might well look into such again at this time. Perhaps some of these parents are really very religious at heart. Perhaps they live on a very lofty plane. Yet they might increase their good influence by getting back to some organized faith or church. So it seems to me, though I may be wrong, of course. We and our nation should be grateful for the spiritual contributions of any person or group, regardless of the particular ways they choose.

I think we all agree that we want to equip our youths with a spiritual armor, one that can't be pierced, shattered or destroyed. Whether our children are in arms or youths donning the uniform of the Armed Forces, we parents are the chief architects of the spiritual armors that they need.

their aggressive designs, the Korean campaign decoration could become the first theater ribbon of World War III.

LONG TALKERS—The Senate being what it is in the matter of adhering to tradition, there will not be anything done for a long time about curbing the senators' propensity for talk.

Privately, however, some senators are getting pretty unhappy about the situation. They say a few are monopolizing the Senate's time.

A few weeks ago, Senate sessions ended about 4:30 p. m. but now 8 p. m. sessions are not too unusual. One senator declared privately that if he could "muzzle about five senators he could save 30 per cent of the Senate's time."

However, irritated as they may be privately, senators will not do anything about it. They prize their boast that the Senate remains "the world's only free forum."

Just Folks

Who would the game of golf enjoy?
Must be accompanied by a boy; A boy, whose duty first of all is this: to watch the driven ball. But ever since the game began The boy has also watched the man.

A golfer in ill-temper may
The worst of manhood's traits display
The boy the ball may fall to see
And lost forever it may be,
But doubt this truth no grown-up can:

The little chap will watch the man
The golf ball's flight too far may be
For those bright, youthful eyes to see,
But let the man one stroke forget
The boy will know it, you can bet.

Sometimes the ball the boy won't see,
The man, unwatched, will never

Folks Of Fame

Ruth St. Denis was born on a New Jersey farm and is said to have been having an ice cream soda in a drugstore when she saw a cigarette poster with a picture of the Egyptian goddess Isis. Then and there, it is told, she decided to become a dancer and interpret the Orient to the West. She admits that she now is past 70 years old, is still high in the field of artistic and interpretive dances. Her "Salome," "White Jade," "Cobra" and her temple dances will never be forgotten by those who saw them. She traveled the Orient with her then husband to carry out her youthful plan—interpret the Orient for westerners. Deeply religious, she believed she should express her faith in dance. She once danced the "Gold Madonna" in a New York church and interpreted the Psalms in another.

Napoleon, 3rd, emperor of France was born on April 20, 1808, in Paris. His family had been exiled from his native land. In 1836 helped by friends, he tried a revolt which proved unsuccessful, and he was put on a ship bound for America, where he was set free. Returning to France as the first sign of revolutionary disturbance, he was elected president of the republic, Sept. 16, 1848. On Dec. 2, 1852, he became emperor. A disastrous war with Prussia ended in defeat, surrender, and the fall of the empire. He was taken prisoner until the end of the war, when, being charged with "the ruin, invasion and dismemberment of France," he retired with his family to Chislehurst, England, where he died on Jan. 9, 1873.

Bible Thought

Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.—Heb. 4:16

The phrase "television is here to stay" seems to mean that after the instalments are paid, the repair costs go on and on.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Some don't like use of the word "war" but it went very well in the phrase "all and short of war" right up to the day we, unfortunately, got blasted into the war we were all short of aiding.

It should still be usable since the evidence is we're short again.

The Government belongs to those who take the most interest in it . . . if you fail to voice your views, the Government goes ahead and does what it wants to do . . . or what some articulate group urges it to do . . . and here is a check list to tell you just what kind of a citizen you are . . . concerning this matter.

Are you a registered voter?
Did you vote in the last primary? In the last general election?
Do you get out and work for your political organization?
Do you maintain close contact with your local public officials?
Have you ever offered to serve in public office, or on any public board or commission?
Do you know your elected representatives in Congress?
Do you write, call, or talk with them in person, and let them know your views on important national issues?
Do you keep yourself thoroughly well informed on current public questions?
Do you make it a point to find out how your elected representatives vote on important legislation?
Do you discuss community and national affairs with the editor of your newspaper, the program director of your radio station, your minister, employees, and school teachers?
Do you oppose making demands on the federal government for things which your community can do for itself?

NEXT ROUND IN A LOPSIDED BOUT

Non-Gayest World City

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Aug. 22.—Ask any traveler to name the gayest city in the world and he'll have to think a bit before settling for Paris, Rio, New York, Buenos Aires, or half a dozen others.

But ask him to name the non-gayest and your traveler probably will look at you as if to ask, "Heavens! Don't you know?" and then answer in a clear and ringing tone, "Stockholm!"

The funny thing is that the traveler wouldn't get any argument in Stockholm. People here are in full accord that while their city is one of the loveliest on earth, it offers little more frivolity than a court-martial proceeding.

He lists the names of several public ping-pong parlors and in his billiards section says "there are four fairly large billiard halls in town for the tourist who has set his heart upon Carolina or Carom." The tourist is welcome at any one of the 120-odd sports grounds maintained by the city and, as the guidebook most thoughtfully points out, anyone foresighted enough to bring along football togs can participate in a rough scrimmage "of the very best Cambridge type." And if the tourist has been wise enough to pack his gym trunks he can "freshen up his slightly rusty tactics in wrestling or sparring matches."

Attend Maypole Dances
The more frivolous visitors to Stockholm are urged to attend the Maypole dances, which are held during the summer months. If the tourist likes to dance he had better try Maypole dancing, because that is about all the chance he will have to shake his feet. The few dance places are all closed in the summer, save for the outdoor ones in Skansen, Stockholm's big park. Every day at 5:30 folk music is played and the dancers wear old folk-costumes. Few visitors have costumes with them, however, having used what spare luggage space they had for rough scrambling uniforms and wrestling trunks.

There is no such thing as going to a cabaret in this town. It is forbidden by law, and has been for a long time, to eat and watch a show at the same time. Ask any Swedish person why this rule was made and he'll tell you that he has no more dreaming idea of the reason than you have. Really, the rule doesn't make any difference as there are no shows to see whether you're eating or not.

Lock Doors At Midnight
It is impossible to get into an eating place in Stockholm after 12 o'clock. When midnight arrives the doors are locked, the kitchens shut down, and the Prime Minister himself couldn't get a bite to eat. This makes it a bit tough on those who arrive in Stockholm late at night, and, again, the first people to question the sense of the law are the Swedes themselves.

Talking to a Frenchman about the city's stringent closing hour laws, I asked what would happen if Paris adopted such measures.

"There would be a revolution, M'sieu, a revolution," he cried. "And not a bloodless one!"

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Behind the necktie counter of a swank Manhattan haberdashery, presides a young man who studied originally to be a mortician, but found the work too lugubrious. "Customers sometimes balk at paying 10 to 15 bucks apiece for a fancy tie," he commented. "I usually calm them by proving statistically that no matter how high prices go, it's still infinitely cheaper to live than to die. Take shoes. Suppose it costs you a half dollar or 75 cents. Know what a family pays to have a dear departed shav'd? Five bucks! Sometimes even ten!"

"A woollen overcoat sells for a hundred dollars tops. A wooden overcoat sells for 300 bottom—and you know what you can do with those silver handles. A taxi ride to the cemetery rarely exceeds two-fifty. The same trip in a hearsed costs ten times as much. The clincher is this: your wife or mother-in-law will tell you all about yourself for nothing, but look what they have to pay for a minister to talk about you at some dismal funeral parlor. See what I mean? How about a couple of foulards for spring?"

I settled for a pair of navy blue garters.

GRANDMA AND THE JUDGE

Grandma was pretty good at settling disputes. When Butch and dad got into a mess she was able to fix things up.

After a while Butch became his honor, the judge.

He used grandma's tactics and they called him a wise judge. Grandma is a wise old guy. She sticks to her knitting and don't brag much but she rules the world just the same.

Ask grandma who is boss. He will say that he is but he knows better.

Congress In The Saddle

(By HOLMES ALEXANDER)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 22.—Seeing's believing, and there's no longer any doubt about who's running the Korean War. Congress is running it. This is more than evident to anyone who drops in on the daily House and Senate activities. Not only the domestic policy, but also the international and military policies, of the twilight war are being hammered out on the debating floor or quietly moulded behind the committee room door.

It is natural to ask whatever became of President Truman whose bold action took us into Korea? The only answer is that Mr. Truman has seemingly abdicated his powers of leadership. It is understood that he will "accept" the domestic controls bill which originated in the House and is being revised in the Senate. But acceptance of other men's plans is not leadership. It is supposed that Mr. Truman would veto any anti-Red bill which seemed to infringe on the civil liberties. But, again, it is not wartime leadership to negate other men's suggestions. On Capitol Hill today there is a Baruch plan, a Hoover plan, a Taft plan and several others. But there is no Truman plan for the domestic transition from cold war to fighting war.

Abdication Is Apparent

The abdication evidently extends into the military and international fields. It's been a long time since the country heard from the President's war minister, the not untalkative Louis Johnson. Military legislation is often discussed—but by whom? Senator Tydings and Rep. Vinson, chairmen of their respective Armed Services Committees, have become the military spokesmen. As for Secretary Acheson, his silence has been the more conspicuous because of the way Congress has taken over the leadership in our foreign relations.

On this subject of affairs, the temptation is to say that Congress is running the war—and that the minority party is running Congress. This strange truth has been privately acknowledged ever since Mr. Truman reversed himself and his Secretary of State in regard to the defense of Formosa. During the period of private acknowledgment the President did have a chance at face-saving. He could at Senator Knowland's suggestion, have brought a couple of Republicans into his cabinet and have made at least a pretense of leadership. But this chance passed when the four GOP members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee came out with their recent statement which blamed the Administration for the recent catastrophes in Asia.

Only Policy Spokesmen

The fact of the moment is that these four Republican Senators—Wiley, Smith of New Jersey, Hickenlooper and Lodge—are spokesmen for the only policy we have in Asia. It is no longer possible for the Administration to "wait for the dust to settle," as it was doing when China fell to the Communists and Korea was invaded by them. Nor can the Administration very well defend its previous Asian policy which at best was indefensible and at worst was non-existent. From any angle of examination, it is now evident that the Republican minority in the Senate is going to determine our international attitudes at least until after the November elections.

Another result of the Truman fade-out in leadership is the revival of interest in Generals MacArthur and Eisenhower. These men, both supreme commanders in World War II, were also both stop-Truman names in the election of 1948 and are re-emerging in the same dual role of soldier-statesman. At this writing a large newspaper chain is only awaiting the right moment in Korea to make MacArthur's picture and the legend "God Bless MacArthur" a front page fixture. Friends of Eisenhower are quite convinced that Ike's presidential boom is here to stay. If the war works against Senator Taft's showing in the Ohio election, Eisenhower will lose his most formidable rival for the GOP nomination in '52.

Nobody quite knows what to make of Mr. Truman's withdrawn or withheld leadership. He, too, could be waiting for some definite news on the Korean outcome. But the feeling is here that if the President comes on either the November elections or the Korean fighting, he'll call him out, he's not looking far enough ahead. The kind of leader we need now would be thinking in terms of a decade of war preparation and of World War III itself.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Before going into the meat of today's column I want to call your attention to two news items which you may have overlooked.

Item No. 1:
"The State Department today was actually shopping around for a $7,000,000 building in New York to house its proposed expanded Voice of America and related propaganda activities."

Item No. 2:
"Secretary of State Dean Acheson and his wife arrived by plane at Saranac Lake today for a week-end visit with their daughter, Mary, who is recovering from an operation. THE ACHESONS CAME HERE IN AN AIR FORCE TRANSPORT." (The capital letters are mine.)

I shall leave the meaning of these two items to your own judgment.

I do hope it won't leave too much of a sour taste in your mouth.

So much for that.
Now let us get on to something more pleasant.

By the time you read this he may be married—or not.

If so the young groom and his third bride may be on their honeymoon when you read this.

This column is written quite a bit in advance of its publication, and lots of things can happen in the meantime.

Incidentally (I am sure the groom knew nothing about it), the parents of the bride, according to the papers, "recently struck oil on their 4,000-acre wheat ranch in Kansas."

Now, please, dear readers, don't condemn Errol Flynn and his various matrimonial affairs.

Neither you nor I believe in multiple marriages. I know that from the strictly ethical viewpoint they are wrong.

But, gosh, isn't there enough wrong in this world about which we are entirely stoical?

Why should we condone so many more important wrongs, but condemn a fellow who at least is

Strike Halts Jet Engine Production

LYNN, Mass., Aug. 22.—(INS)—Production of jet airplane engines for the expanding American military program was halted today at the General Electric Company's River works by a strike of 140 forge shopworkers.

The strikers said they would distribute leaflets today to explain the walkout to enforce demands for a special pay increase of 5½ cents an hour and to call attention to a complaint that foremen were not carrying their grievances to top management.

A plea by works manager Joseph Eckel to Fred M. Kelley, business agent of Local 201, CIO International Union of Electrical Workers failed to prevent the walkout. Eckel said jet engine production was vital to national security.

Union spokesmen said there has been bitterness among employees of the plant recently because the company has been distributing circulars seeking to discredit the union's national wage and pension demands.

Fast Thinking By Switchman Saves Possible Tragedy

WASHINGTON, August 22.—(INS)—Joseph Callon, 27, is a hero today because he thinks fast in an emergency.

Callon, a switchman at Washington Union Terminal, heard a loud-speaker report of a runaway locomotive and saw it from his switchman's tower at about the same time.

Without stopping to consider the matter, he threw a switch sending the locomotive crashing into a train that had just discharged its passengers.

The brakeman and the conductor of the train suffered slight injuries, but the train that the locomotive might have hit if it had not been switched at the last moment was a crack train loaded with 200 passengers.

The engine and the loaded train missed each other by eight feet.

Clarify Law On 'War Clauses' In Insurance Policies

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—(INS)—

Pennsylvania law governing so-called "war clauses" in life insurance policies was clarified today by the state insurance department. "The law permits life underwriters to attach war clauses to any new contracts drawn up but does not allow revision of policies in force," said deputy insurance commissioner Ralph H. Alexander.

"Some policies in force, however, do contain war clauses put in at the time of issue and as such are in effect," Alexander explained.

The department advised Pennsylvanians liable for induction to scan their policies and to consult their insurance company if doubt is created by any provisions which refer to military service.

B. & O. Commuter Fares To Increase On September 1

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—(INS)—The Baltimore & Ohio railroad was authorized today by the Public Utility Commission to boost commuter fares in the Pittsburgh area an average of 25 per cent effective September 1.

The PUC voted 4-1 for the increase with Commissioner John B. Conly casting the negative ballot.

The fare boost was in line with similar revisions approved for the Pennsylvania railroad and the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad.

The B & O operates commuter service between Pittsburgh, Versailles, Connellsville and Ellwood City.

Fares are based on a uniform schedule approved earlier by the PUC and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

'Play Day' At Cascade Park Is Finale For Playgrounders

Ending a summer of playground activity was the "Play Day" held Monday at Cascade Park. This was the first time in the "Play Day" history that youngsters had the opportunity to let go all their pent-up energy at Cascade Park.

Buses arrived at 10 o'clock. Approximately 1200 children were present. The weather showed little if no promise but this fact was the farthest thing from the children's minds as they ran here and there taking advantage of the free rides, three cent popcorn and ice cream cones.

The only concession that suffered neglect was the park swimming pool having only 25 swimmers during the course of the day.

Rees Flannery, recreation director, along with 20 other instructors were on hand to maintain order and conduct during the special events.

A Red Cross station was also open all day in case of accident.

Awards Are Made
At 1:00 o'clock the big event of the day came around. All the youngsters convened at the dance pavilion where the awards for outstanding sportsmanship and leadership were given by Reese Flannery.

World Looks Better With New Sun Glasses

SOUTHBRIDGE, Mass., Aug. 22.—(INS)—Science has made a fact of fiction in the case of rose colored glasses which always make things look their best.

The American optical company said today it is making available for civilian wear double-duty sun glasses, rose smoke in color, that penetrate haze to make things clear on overcast days, and also protect the eyes from strong sunlight.

The glasses until now have been supplied only to the U. S. Air Force.

LEGION AIDS BOY

OSCEOLA MILLS, Pa., Aug. 22.—(INS)—Thanks to the generosity of the Clearfield American Legion Post four-year-old Nelson Haney will be flown to Philadelphia today for examination and possible treatment at Graduate Hospital of an unusual brain malady.

The boy, one of six children of a coal miner, was stricken with the ailment when he was three months old.

His normal mental progress was impeded. The only word he can say is "Mamma."

The Legion's original goal of $1,000 was nearly doubled.

If medical treatment fails, the Legion will use the money to place Nelson in an institution where he will receive special care.

Rotary Hears Ohio Visitor

Attorney Manchester Speaker Monday Noon

How Rotary should function to fulfill its niche in a confused world was told New Castle Rotarians at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Monday noon, by Attorney Robert Manchester, of Youngstown.

Rotary is world-wide, he stated, and is not just another service club, but a live organization, which is fulfilling its mission in a world which seems in confusion. Rotary appears to be closer with America in the European countries than in South America, the big difference between these two hemispheres being due to the difference in their language, he stated.

Re-established in Germany
Rotary, he stated, is being re-established in Germany and Japan, representatives of Rotary from these nations being present at the International Convention, held earlier in the year.

In order to fulfill its mission to spread happiness and success, Attorney Manchester laid down some rules of conduct, which he felt every Rotary Club should follow, and which brought Rotary closer to many of his hearers.

In addition to Attorney Manchester, Jack Andrews of the Youngstown club was also a guest. Other guests included William McElwee and Jerry Daugherty of New Wilmington; Sam Miller, of Midland; and P. R. Corey of Columbiana, O.

DPA Forecasts Drop In Relief Payments

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22—(INS)—The State Department of Public Assistance today forecast a decline in relief payments commensurate with the drop in unemployment.

During July the D.P.A. reported, expenditures totaled $10,817,000 compared with $11,152,000 in March.

Thirty-six per cent of the July expenditures was contributed by the Federal Government.

The D.P.A. reported spending during July $2,444,000 for old age assistance, $4,364,000 for aid to dependent children, $2,391,000 for general assistance and $618,000 for blind pensions. Federal money was channeled into the old age assistance and aid to dependent children programs.

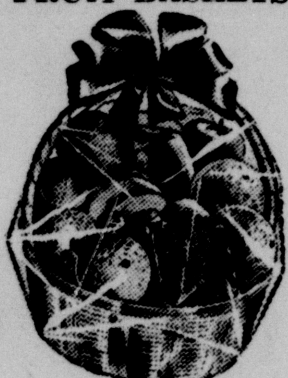

"The total cost of assistance grants during July was nearly $3,000,000 less than was spent in March when the assistance rolls reached a post war peak as a result of the coal strike," the D.P.A. announced. "In that month, expenditures for grants totaled $13,789,000."

"Following settlement of the coal strike, and with a general improvement in employment, the rolls began a decline that has been unbroken up to the present time."

"In as much as all indications point to a continuation of this downward trend in the rolls during the immediate future, expenditures for assistance grants may also be expected to drop," the D.P.A. reported.

In the United States in 1949 265 communities were sprayed or dusted from the air to wipe out flies and mosquitoes.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

EXPECTANT MOTHERS

How different people are! Jane Doe, June Rowe, Julia Coe, and Jennie Snow are all expecting babies. Mrs. Doe carries on as usual. From her attitude and behavior one would hardly know anything was happening. June Rowe is very sentimental about the whole thing. She constantly dramatizes herself. All her friends and neighbors have heard over and over again how she is feeling, and how wonderful it is that the Rowes are going to have a baby.

Mrs. Coe doesn't like the idea at all. She resents her husband, she resents the loss of her figure, she resents everything about pregnancy. Jennie Snow and her husband are quietly happy that their family is on the way.

What difference these attitudes make? There is little evidence to support the idea that babies, before birth, are influenced by attitudes or experiences their mothers have while carrying them. Yet, such attitudes, as described above, are often carried on after the child is born.

Other things being equal, the kind of emotional climate the newborn youngster will find in the Doe and the Snow families is one that makes for a healthy, wholesome child. The newcomer to the Rowe family is likely to be swamped with overattention. And the Coe infant is in for a rough time unless something happens to change mother Coe's feelings.

One of the real contributions of pre-natal mother's clubs is that of helping the Rowes and the Coes to try to understand their own attitudes and behavior. Sharing their reactions with other prospective mothers often helps them get a new perspective and modify attitudes that may be harmful to children after they are born.

Orchestra To Start Third Season Here

Announcement has been made by the New Castle Symphony Association that rehearsals for the first concert of the winter season of the New Castle Symphony orchestra will be held on Tuesday, September 5, at the Ben Franklin junior high school auditorium. Strings will report at 7:15 and full orchestra at 8:15.

This will mark the opening of the third season of the orchestra under the direction of Anthony Casbero, who has won admiration and confidence by his initiative in bringing the orchestra to its present position. Mr. Casbero firmly believes that the orchestra is a vital part of the community and is proving itself valuable in molding the attitude of the younger musicians in the formation of the Youth Symphony which will hold its auditions soon.

Girls and boys of the community are looking forward to being a part of the Youth Symphony as well as a part of its listening audience.

The opening concert of the New Castle Symphony will be held on November 15 and the association is happy to announce that Adrian Fisher, concert pianist, will be the soloist for the concert.

Exports Lag In Month Of June

Imports Show Big Spurt In Same Time

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—(INS)—U. S. agricultural exports in June lagged behind those of June a year ago, but imports spurted upward.

During June, the agriculture department says, U. S. farm exports were valued at 263 million dollars, a 30 million dollar increase from May, but a drop of almost 57 million dollars from June of 1949.

Total U. S. exports during that month of farm and non-farm products amounted to almost 865 million dollars. Farm exports, therefore, were 30 per cent of the total exported during June.

U. S. imports of agricultural products in June, the last month of the 1949-50 fiscal year, totaled 228 million dollars, compared with 279 million in May and 233 million in June of last year.

Officials point out that the U. S. still is importing more farm products than it is shipping overseas.

"Complementary Products" But the U. S. imports more of the so-called "complementary products"—those that are not in large-scale production here—than "supplementary products"—the ones that add to domestic production.

Both farm and non-farm product imports totaled 679 million dollars in June, consequently, in the over-all picture the U. S. still exports more than it brings in. It exports more non-farm goods than farm goods.

Major agricultural products the U. S. imports include: coffee, rubber, wool, sugar, cocoa and hides and skins.

Heading the list of agricultural commodities exported is cotton, with a value of 127 million dollars, an increase of 41 per cent above the value of May exports and 43 per cent higher than June a year ago.

Wheat exports were second in importance with shipments valued at 41 million dollars, an increase of 11 per cent above May exports and a decrease of 54 per cent from June, 1949.

LEARN TO USE ELASTIC THREAD

Elastic thread has many uses in home sewing. It most often appears as shirring at waistlines, hiplines, necklines, and ruffings. Other uses for elastic thread include shirring at yokes, waistlines, and puff sleeves of children's dresses, and at the top of men's and boys' pajamas and shorts. Elastic thread also may be used in hand sewing to reinforce tops of socks and waistbands or wristbands of jackets and snowsuits.

Elastic thread shirrs as it stretches. The fullness of the shirring is regulated by the length of the stitch. For fuller shirring, lengthen the machine stitch and for less shirring use a shorter stitch.

Wind the bobbin with elastic thread, the same as for regular sewing, but without tension. Or you may wind the bobbin by hand. Thread the machine on top with regular size sewing thread, using a medium size needle. Set the stitch adjuster to about seven stitches per inch and proceed as for regular sewing. Hold the fabric smooth and flat as for regular sewing. Do not have the tension too tight.

Make a test sample of the stitching before you start shirring. It will take about twice the amount of material to shirr a garment to the size desired. For a decorative touch to a garment, use contrasting color in elastic thread and shirr the material with the wrong side up.

POINTS TO CHECK ON BEING A GOOD PARENT

Good parents are well-adjusted people, with sincerity and common sense, able to identify themselves with their children and understand their feelings. Parents might like to check as to how they measure up to the essentials of a good parent.

Child development and family life authorities point out that good parents are frank and honest in answering questions, sincere in their emotional response, and capable of showing affection. They are interested in the pleasure and development of their children.

Good parents possess firm and quiet control, are consistent in discipline, dependable, making fair demands, and providing social contacts outside the home. Their children are apt to develop desirable character qualities. Good parents are friendly, interested, enthusiastic, courageous, and loving.

A good parent is apt to be a good student, a good worker, and a good citizen. As a natural result of being a good parent, good parent-child relationships will be fostered.

MAID-OF-HONOR

"I am to be maid-of-honor for a very close friend who is to be married in a simple affair. She is wearing a street-length dress and her marriage will take place in the minister's house, followed by a small reception, in the mid-afternoon. Just the immediate families will be present. Please tell me what my duties are. What should I wear? What kind of wedding gift should I present?"

Answer: Your duties will be few since the wedding will be so informal and will consequently require little preparation. Give a shower for the bride, if you can do so. If you cannot do this, you should, then, entertain for her and her family. Make your wedding gift something for her new home—a piece of silver, a quilt, a blanket, a lamp or some similar useful household item. Wear informal clothes—either a street-length dress or suit—since the bride will be informally dressed. The maid-of-honor always dress in the same type of clothes as the bride; that is, full-length formal or street-length informal.

Question: Are wedding gifts usually sent a divorcee who remarries?

Answer: Very close friends send presents to the widow or divorcee who remarries, but general acquaintances usually do not, unless they especially wish to do so. There is no obligation to do this at the second marriage, unless there is a reception to which you are invited.

Question: Is it ever permissible when introducing two persons to say: "Mrs. Jones meet Mrs. Smith?"

Answer: No. The accepted form is "Mrs. Jones," pause and then say "Mrs. Smith." Also, never say: "I want you make the acquaintance of Mrs. Smith," or "I want you to meet my friend, Mrs. Smith." In calling Mrs. Smith your friend, you imply that Mrs. Jones is merely a stranger.

When an Hour means Forever!

Well, here you are—your hand on the beautiful steering wheel, the tip of your toe on the sensitive throttle, your thoughts on your favorite highway.

You're going to find out—for yourself—whether all these wonderful things you've been hearing are true.

A flick of the finger, and the great Hydramatic Drive is set for action. A touch to the throttle, and the power of the dynamic engine goes to the rear wheels. Softly, quietly—and, oh, so smoothly—you roll out into the street.

What's this? A "Stop" sign! You take your toe off the throttle and put it on the brake—and you settle down to the softest, most reassuring stop you ever experienced in all your life. Say, it's fun even to put on the brakes!

You look to the right and you look to the left. The crossing is clear—and you touch the throttle.

You can tell you're going places—for the back of the seat comes up to press against your shoulders. But it's all so easy! From settled stop to driving speed is one continuous sweep—as if by automatic propulsion. What an experience!

Again and again, the big brakes bring you to a velvet stop. Again and again, the great engine sweeps you into action with one continuous movement. Again and again, a rough stretch of road rolls under the wheels and leaves you wondering what happened to it.

Yes, it's true! This wonderful car's performance is equal to its prestige. You want it as much for what it does—as for the magic name it bears.

Come in and see for yourself. But it's only fair to warn you: Sit for an hour at its beautiful wheel, and you'll want this car forever!

LOMBARDI-SKOLADA PLEDGE OF VOWS

At an impressive late summer wedding, Miss Edith Lombardi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bartolomeo Lombardi of 208 South Lafayette street, was married to Valent Skolada, son of Mrs. Mary Skolada of Struthers, O.

Before an altar embarked with white gladioli and ferns, the couple pledged their vows on Saturday August 19, at St. Lucy's church. Rev. Sebastian Ippolito officiated using the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white summer satin gown. The gown was styled with a fitted bodice and a square collar embroidered with tiny seed pearls. Long sleeves tapered to points at the wrists. Back interest was created by a row of satin-covered buttons.

The skirt extended into a long cathedral train. Her three-tiered fingertip veil of imported French illusion was held to a Juliet cap the crown of which was made of an open lattice-work of satin and pearls. She carried a crescent bouquet of stephanotis and English ivy centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Christine Picirelli attended the bride as matron of honor. She was attired in a pink gown featuring a lace bodice and a bouffant skirt of nylon net over taffeta. She wore long, matching mitts and a picture hat and carried a crescent bouquet of pink gladioli, pompons and English ivy.

Thomas Adduchi served the groom as best man. A wedding dinner was served to the immediate families and an open reception was held from four to seven p.m. at St. Margaret's hall. Mr. and Mrs. Skolada departed on a motor trip to Canada and other points of interest. When they return, they will be "at home" in their newly furnished apartment at 515 West Cherry street.

Mrs. Skolada is a graduate of New Castle high school and is employed at the Shenango Pottery. Her husband is a graduate of the Struthers high school and is employed at the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company.

"Open house" will be held in the evening at St. Margaret's hall from the hours of 5 to 8 o'clock. No invitations have been issued.

A "Sneak Review" Tonight At Skyline
In the Hollywood style for tonight only the Skyline Drive-In Theatre will present as an extra added attraction a new Italian feature film "Fatalita". The cast consists of the greatest Italian artists, as Grotti and Nazzari. The picture is an exciting tale of a woman's heart, the sudden passion for another man, but it could be called too "the magic spell of the wedding ring".

The main feature "O Sole Mio" starring the world famous baritone Tito Gobbi will be shown on the same program.

Duris Killed In Milwaukee Race

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Aug. 22.—(INS)—Tony Bettenhausen of Tinley Park, Ill., was credited today with setting a new track record when he thundered to victory in the 100-mile National A. A. A. Midget Auto Championship Race at Milwaukee Sunday.

Killed instantly when his car went out of control at the first turn was Albert Duris of Bedford, O. The machine crashed through the inner railing, plunged eight feet into a dry creek bed and burst into flames.

The tragedy was witnessed from the grandstand by Duris' fiancée, Lillian Parker, 26, also of Bedford.

Four Ball Players Become Benedicts

FORT WORTH, Tex., Aug. 22.—(INS)—Dan Cupid tagged four members of the Fort Worth baseball team at home plate last night and the players said, "I do's" before 10,000 fans.

Special ceremonies at an elaborately decorated home plate altar united pitcher John Rutherford and Miss Martha Jo Day of Dayton, O.; second baseman Joe Torpey and Miss Marilee Cook of Pueblo, Colo.; shortstop Russ Rose and Miss Patricia Ann Thayer of Van Nuys, Cal.; and third baseman Don Hoak and Miss Phyllis Warner of Coudersport, Pa.

Comes Close To Setting Record

VISBY, SWEDEN, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Jim Fuchs, Yale's big muscle man, edged even closer today toward his 60-foot goal but had to be content with merely shattering his own unofficial world record for the 16-pound shot-put.

The Eli husky came within 15 inches of his ambition yesterday with a heave of 58 feet 99/64 inches. His best previous toss had been 58 feet, 5 1/2 inches at Los Angeles last April.

The official record was set in 1948 by Michigan's Charley Fomville with a 58 feet, 3/8 inches fling.

New York Stocks

Stock Market Is Irregular

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Stocks moved along at a slow rate in forenoon trading today with the main price trend fractionally lower.

Steel shares were easier, reflecting reports output was being reduced by the railroad strikes in the middle west.

Jones & Laughlin sagged 1/2 to 37 1/2. Santa Fe and Great Northern showed independent strength but other rails were dull.

Sale of a 32,000 share block of Packard at the unchanged level of 4 1/2 featured motors.

Aircraft manufacturing equities lost ground. Douglas dropped a point to 83 1/2. Allied Chemical reacted 2 points. Du Pont rose 1/2 to 81 1/2.

Chicago grains were irregular. Wheat was firm but soy beans drifted fractionally lower. N. Y. Cotton unchanged to 50 cents a bale higher. Bonds and curb shares moved narrowly.

Farmers Monthly Income Declining

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—(INS)—Pennsylvania farmers lost more than $27,000,000 in cash income in the first five months of this year compared to the same period of 1949, the state agriculture department announced today.

A slight rise was noted in April over the April 1949 but income dipped again in May, the department reported.

Since the 1948 peak year, farmers have experienced a decline in income every month except May 1949 and April 1950.

At the same time, the department announced a gain of two per cent in the dollar value per acre of Pennsylvania farm land based on the price established a year ago.

Between July 1949 and July 1950 the gain in state farm values was one per cent. Nationally, the March-July advance was two per cent.

FISH CONTESTS NOT LOTTERIES

WASHINGTON—President Truman today signed a bill exempting from the federal lottery laws non-profit fishing contests sponsored by recognized organizations.

The Post Office department has ruled that, under the present law, fishing contests are lotteries, and information about them is barred from mails.

Around Hollywood

By JAMES PADGITT
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 22.—Loretta Young is going to ooze allure and glamor in her next picture, the likes of which will cause Lana Turner, Marlene Dietrich and Shelley Winters to sit up and take notice.

The studio wanted Loretta to be electrifying as a man trapper in "Half Angel", so the experts set up a blueprint of what they called "modern allures".

Loretta, who has been ultra glamorous all along in her screen career but not with the femme appeal of the other charmers, absorbed the blueprint until she knew it forward and backward.

These "allures", she said, called for a low and husky voice, described in the scenario as being like a "muted cello".

"So," she said, "I had a friend play a muted cello to get an idea." She wears her silky brown hair raekishly over one eye, and the script calls for a "floating walk".

"As though," Loretta explained, "I was stepping on sea shells. At least, that's what the scenario said. It's a neat trick if you can do it."

Other items in the 1950 "blueprint for come-hither-ness" calls for limpid eyes and tender kisses.

"Nothing really passionate this season," she said. "But the kind of kisses that have suspense in them."

Her clothes include the standard equipment for sirens of a filmy negligee, bright pajamas and a split skirt, all done up in color.

Loretta engaged in a hassle of sorts with her studio bosses on the cost of her wardrobe, including the negligee deal. Loretta, playing a $60 a week nurse in the film, thinks that the character she portrays could not afford more than a $5 negligee.

Fans Are Funny

The studio, however, insisted that she should bother her pretty head with such details. After all, the public wants to see $60-a-week girls wearing $100 nighties, even if

Local Police Forces To Train Additional Men For Emergencies

HARRISBURG, Aug. 22.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police Association alerted local police forces to prepare to recruit and train auxiliary police units as part of the state's civilian defense program.

PCA executive director Samuel Siegle offered Gov. James H. Duff the association's support in safeguarding the home front.

"The years of specialized experience offered by association members should prove especially valuable in guarding against attempts at industrial sabotage," Siegle pointed out.

He said that local police units are preparing to organize auxiliary forces "to meet any possible emergency that might arise in their respective communities."

These auxiliary police forces will be held ready for service at the disposal of the state council of defense, he said.

Woman Replaces Hubby As Danville Sheriff

DANVILLE, Pa., Aug. 22.—(INS)—Montour county's first female sheriff is on the job.

She is Mrs. Robert Burkland of Danville, mother of three children, and is the only female sheriff in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Burkland was appointed to the post when her husband was called into service with a Pennsylvania National Guard unit.
